Sasquatch Crossing Eco Lodge

Sts'ailes purchased this historic property in the spring of 2009. Built as Fenn Lodge in 1903 as a private home, this 10,000 square foot gem was remodelled fifteen years ago into a bed and breakfast facility. It features nine unique guest rooms with private bathrooms.

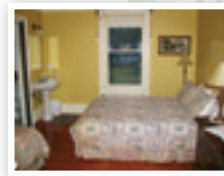

The house includes a library, living room with a fireplace, twenty-four seat dining hall, regulation size billiards table, large gourmet-style kitchen, free wifi, and meeting rooms – a perfect place for your family or group event.

The lovely eighty-seven acre property features a secluded waterfall (providing electricity ten months of the year), creek, salt water pool and a peaceful meditation labyrinth. Walking trails and garden areas are on and adjacent to the grounds. Bordering the property are the Chehalis reserve lands, Nature Trust of BC conservation lands and the Chehalis River Hatchery. Nearby are golf, skiing, boating and wildlife viewing opportunities.
